

Patrick Bruce joins Systech International

Systech International is delighted to announce that Patrick Bruce will be joining the business at the beginning of February.

Patrick will work closely with Mark Woodward-Smith, Group Managing Director for Europe and Bob Chapman, UK Regional Managing Director, to support our business.

Patrick was previously with Costain, who he joined as a graduate sandwich course student in 1972, rising to the role of Group Commercial Director in 2006 for which he sat on the Executive Board with overall responsibility for procurement, insurance, commercial management and risk management. He worked across the Costain organisation and its subsidiaries on a variety of projects in Europe, Asia and the Americas.

Mark Woodward-Smith says "Patrick brings an immense wealth of experience to our business and I and the senior management team look forward to working with him".
