

High quality legal services using English qualified construction lawyers on performance fees

Who are we?

Systech Solicitors offers a truly unique service – our solicitors and counsel combine with claims consultants, forensic planners and experts from Systech International to offer a complete international legal and dispute resolution service from a single business.

- Established in 2008
- 500 professional consultants worldwide across 23 offices
- Headquarters in London
- English lawyers trained, qualified and regulated in the UK
- Construction and engineering specialists
- Major projects expertise across wide sector range – construction, civil and marine engineering, rail, airports, power, highways, ports
- Ideally located for global seats of arbitration – LCIA, ICC, SIAC, DIAC
- Chambers Directory “well respected”, highly rated”, “leaders in their field”

What we do?

Our consultants work together under a single point of responsibility to provide a co-ordinated range of legal services, avoiding the abortive work that often arises when using multi-party advisors. Our global experience includes acting for contractors on disputes in over 40 jurisdictions.

Legal consultancy

Full range of contentious and non-contentious legal services for major contractors from pre-bid to final account, including resolution of disputes from crystallisation to award.

Non contentious

- Procurement strategy
- Contract advice
- Partnering/JV agreements
- Risk management
- Project support
- Training

Contentious

- Strategic advice
- Claims management
- Dispute avoidance
- Dispute resolution
- International arbitration / litigation
- Advocacy/counsel
- DRB's

Legal secondment

Lawyers with major projects experience on 12 month renewable contracts for in-house counsel positions.

Who do we work for?

Why are we different?

We are a unique client focussed business that provides realistic and honest appraisals of expected dispute outcomes utilising our legal, contract, commercial and forensic delay analysis expertise.

- All our lawyers specialise in construction and engineering
- We speak the language of contractors; there is no learning curve
- We look for opportunities to obtain quick, commercially attractive settlements
- All the services you require to resolve a dispute from a single business, managed by a single point of responsibility
- Flexible work locations – “your site is our office”
- Use of high impact video and graphics to clearly communicate key arguments and avoid multi-language issues

How do we charge for our services?

We recognise that legal costs are a major expense for contractors and we offer competitive and innovative fee arrangements.

- Our headline rates are significantly less than other legal practices, typically USD300/hour
- Performance related fees – we are prepared to share the risk with our clients and will consider Conditional Fee Agreements which can be combined with relevant costs insurance to protect our clients

To learn more about our services contact:

Stephen Rayment
Group Managing Director,
MEA & APAC

stephen.rayment@systech-int.com