

Expert Witness

Quantum and time experts with testimony experience, supported by our global operation.

Systech International has an international panel of experts who can advise on a range of contractual, quantum and time related issues.

Our experts are familiar with providing testimony through written reports or at trial where their evidence is presented in court and subject to cross examination.

What do we offer?

Expert services are supported by our in-house visualisations to enhance the presentation of key messages.

- Global panel of time and quantum experts
- Hands-on project experience, practical approach
- Testimony under cross examination
- Representation at DAB's and other tribunal
- Back up and support from business
- Relationship with other providers of expert services
- Cost effective

